

ENACTMENT CLAUSE AND SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION

<http://www.constitutionalconcepts.org/enacting.htm>

The Enacting Clause

Any bill, rule, regulation, code, or other document that purports to be a Law must contain an "Enacting Clause."

Enacting Clauses are required by the Constitutions of 46 of the 50 States, and the Supreme Courts of the other 4 States have all ruled that Enacting Clauses are required, even though the Constitution doesn't require them.

The Constitution for the United States does not require Enacting Clauses, even though the Preamble to the Constitution is the Enacting Clause for the Constitution.

Enacting Clauses identify the Individual, or the group, that created the Law.

This information will allow everyone to determine their legal or lawful relationship is to the Individual, or group, that is created the Law.

If there is no legal or lawful relationship, then the law does not apply.

If you live in Florida, you are not subject to the laws of California unless you happen to be visiting California

Enacting Clauses also declare the authority the Individual, or group, claims in order to create the Law.

If the Individual, or group, has no authority, or right, to create the law, then the law is not really a law and has no effect on anyone.

As an example:

The Janitor in the Senate Office Building has no authority to write a law, even though he works in the Senate Office Building.

Enacting Clauses have been used throughout history

The Ten Commandments has an Enacting Clause:

The Clause states:"I am the Lord thy God"

The Individual is the "Lord"

His authority is that He is our God

The edict of Cyrus to allow the Jews to rebuild Jerusalem has an Enacting Clause:

The Clause states:"Thus saith Cyrus king of Persia"

The Individual is "Cyrus"

His authority is that He is the King

The Constitution for the united States or America has an Enacting Clause:

The Clause, which is in the Preamble to the Constitution, states:"We the People"

The group is "We"

Our authority is that we are the People and Sovereign People are the source of all legitimate Laws.

---

Almost all constitutions prescribe the mode and process of making laws.

Generally, these include:

- Giving the bill a Title that is reflective of the purpose set forth in the bill
- Placing the Enacting Clause between the Title and the Body of the Bill
- Reading the FULL bill on each of three different days in each Legislative House, including the Title and the Enacting Clause
- If Passed, the bill must be signed by the Speaker of the House of Representatives and by the President of the Senate
- The votes must be recorded in the Journal for the specific House
- The bill must be signed by the governor of the State, or the president of the United States, as the case may be
- The completed bill must be recorded in the office of the Secretary of State
- The completed bill must be announced, by publication, by the Secretary of State

- And, it is extremely important that every publication of the Law must contain the Title, the Enacting Clause, and the full Body of the Law.
- If the publication does not contain everything, then there is no evidence on the face of the Law to prove that it was lawfully established, who created the Law, and what authority they claim to be entitled to create the Law.

If the publication does not contain these items, then the Law has not been properly published, as required, therefore, the Law is null and void and has no effect on anyone.

Written Laws, in all times and all countries, whether the edicts of absolute monarchs, decrees of Kings and Councils, or the enactments of representative bodies, have almost invariably, in some form, expressed upon their face the authority by which they were promulgated or enacted. The almost unbroken custom of centuries has been to preface laws with a statement declaring the enacting authority. - Sjoberg v Security Savings & Loan Assn. 73 Minn. 203,212,213, (1898) - State v Kozer, 239 pac. 805, 807, (Ore. 1925) - Joiner v State, 155 S.E.2d 8, 9, 223 GA 367 (1967) - 25 Ruling Case Law, "Statutes," 22, p 775, 776 - City of Carlyle v Nicolay, 165 N.E. 211, 216, 217 (Ill. 1929)

The completed bill may also be subject to other procedures as are validly prescribed in the Constitution, or in the bill itself

Then, and only then, can the bill be called a Law

Then, and only then, can the Law be enforced

But, there is still a very basic decision that must be addressed

Who is subject to the Law?

Only those individuals who have a legal, or lawful, relationship to the Law makers are subject to any Law they create.

A Citizen of France is not subject to the Laws of the United States, or of China, or of any other country around the world, unless he, or she, is living, or traveling in that country.

A Citizen of the State of New York is not subject to the Laws of Utah, or of California, or of any other State, unless he, or she, is living, or traveling in that State.

An individual living in a community is not subject to the Laws of the neighboring community, or of any other community, unless he, or she, is living, or traveling in that community.

Unless there is a legal, or lawful, relationship to the Law makers, Individuals are not subject to the Laws created by such law makers

That's why an Enacting Clause is required on any Law for it to be effective.

NOW THEREFORE, WITHOUT AN ENACTING CLAUSE, THERE IS NOT LAW THAT GIVES THE COURT "SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION". IF A STATUTE DOES NOT HAVE AN ENACTING CLAUSE SOMEWHERE WITHIN THE STATUTE, EITHER AT THE BEGINNING, MIDDLE OR END. THE COURT HAS NO SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION BECAUSE THE THING, MEANING THE LAW DOES NOT EXIST. IF NO LAW, THAN NO CRIME, IF NO LAW OR CRIME, NO SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION.

EXAMPLE-THIS IS WHAT YOU NORMALLY SEE:

LOUISIANA REVISED STATUTES
TITLE 6. BANKS AND BANKING
CHAPTER 4. PROHIBITED PRACTICES; SANCTIONS
(Current through 2013 Regular Legislative Session)

§ 414. Use of certain terms by persons other than financial institutions prohibited

No person other than a financial institution shall in any manner directly or indirectly in written or verbal advertising or other communication purport to offer a savings account, savings deposit, certificate of deposit, savings certificate, money market certificate, share account, share draft account, passbook account, checking account, or withdrawals from such accounts. This provision, however, shall not be construed to prohibit any person from describing in verbal or written advertisement in this state the investment services it is offering, provided that such advertisement does not mislead the public by implying that such investment services are the equivalent of those stated above.

B.No person other than a financial institution or other person subject to the general supervision or regulation of the commissioner pursuant to this Title or Title 9 of the Louisiana Revised Statutes of 1950 shall engage in business as a bond for deed escrow agent on or after November 1, 1993, unless such person has first obtained a license pursuant to regulations issued by the commissioner. A person engaged in business as such an agent on January 1, 1993, may continue to be so engaged and shall have until December 31, 1993, to obtain a license in conformity herewith. The commissioner shall promulgate such rules and regulations as deemed necessary to implement this provision.

NOW THIS SOUNDS REALLY OFFICIAL, AND BECAUSE OF YOUR RESPECT FOR LAW ITSELF, YOU ARE GOING TO GO GET A LICENSE SO YOU CAN USE THOSE TERMS.

HERE IS HOW IT IS SUPPOSED TO READ AND KEEP IN MIND, THE PUBLICATION ABOVE IS WHAT WAS PUBLISHED ON THE INTERNET:

THIS IS WHY THE Court does not have subject matter jurisdiction, this was found on the last page, 207 of the LEGISLATURE OF NEBRASKA ONE HUNDRED THIRD LEGISLATURE FIRST SESSION LEGISLATIVE BILL 195 Final Reading

Sec. 271. This act becomes operative on July 1, 2013.

Sec. 272. Since an emergency exists, this act takes effect when passed and approved according to law.

ALL PURPORTED LAWS ARE OPERATIVE, THEY ARE NOT LAWS, THEREFORE, THE COURT DOES NOT HAVE SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION. THE LAW IS THE SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION OF ANY COURT, ALL THAT HAPPENED IS THE LAW WAS REMOVED FROM THE COURTS AND REPLACED BY REVISED STATUTES UNDER THE "COLOR OF LAW". SUBJECT MATTER JURISDICTION HAS TO BE PROVEN BEFORE ANY COURT CAN PROCEED OTHERWISE THERE IS NO DUE PROCESS AND THE PURPORTED CAUSE OF ACTION HAS TO BE REMOVED BECAUSE THE CAUSE OF ACTION ITSELF IS COLOR OF LAW AND NOT LAW ITSELF. COLOR OF LAW IS NOTHING MORE THAN FRAUD UPON ANY COURT.
